LOCAL NEWS.

The Band will cheer the sick folks at Kakaako this afternoon.

The mail for San Francisco by the Russian steamer Moskwa will close at three o'clock this afternoon.

Mr. Adam Goodman, an evangelist, is expected here from San Francisco by next steamer, to hold religious meetings.

At the weekly prayer and praise service this evening at the Lyceum, Rev. E. C. Oggel, the pastor, will give a Bible reading.

Another chiel among us takin' notes, is Mr. H. F. Hiller, a correspondent of sundry Eastern papers. He is a brother-in-law of Mr. Wiseman.

The Japanese training ship Tskuba entered the harbor yesterday exchanging salutes with the shore battery. Jap marines were about town in force in the afternoon.

The foundations of buildings are being laid on the west side of King street, all the way from Maunakea to the old Police Station site, also west from King on Maunakea street to the limit of the burnt district.

Mr. Fred. Harrison's horse ran away with a brake from his house on Luna-lilo street, last evening, and went careering through several streets. Before he ran his fright out, the brake was put beyond present service by the loss of a wheel.

A native named Kaeo was severely bruised on the leg Monday morning, while prying up a heavy piece of timber, part of the cargo of the bark Don Nicholas, in Allen & Robinson's yard. It is said the steam winch was started without any warning, but accounts are conflicting. Kaeo refused medical attendance, but was doing well yesterday.

Mr. Allen Herbert received a steam launch by the bark Edward May. It came from New Bedford, and is designed to encounter rough waters. While the vessel was off the River Platte, heavy seas were shipped and the port bow of the boat was badly stove. Mr. Herbert will use the launch to ply between his residence at Waikiki and the city.

The Royal Band gave a splendid concert at the Hawaiian Hotel last evening in honor of the Russian dignitaries. Two Russian pieces were played, one of their anthems preceding "Hawaii Pono!" at the close. The guests of the evening occupied seats on the verandah to the left, and were surrounded during the evening by Hawaiian notables and the diplomatic corps. There was a rather small attendance of the general public on the grounds, but a good few of the representative citizens were grouped on the verandahs. The building front was prettily hung with colored lanterns.

Regal Reception.

Yesterday the King gave audience to the Russian Vice-Admiral Shestakoff and lady, the Princess Wittgenstein and Galitzine, together with their aids. The guests were presented by Mr. J. W. Pfluger, Russian Vice-Consul, who had been previously presented by His Excellency Robt. J. Creighton, Minister of Foreign Affairs. Afterward the party were conducted to the Queen's apartments and presented to Her Majesty. Then Captain Radloff and officers of the Moskwa, together with the Vice-Consul and Mrs. Pfluger, were given royal audience, the proceedings closing with refreshments in the royal banquet hall. In the afternoon the distinguished visitors were conducted to the residence of Princess Liliuokalani, at Palama, where a guard of honor received them.

TRADE POINTERS.

Persons requiring medicinal "mountain dew" are referred to Messrs. G. W. Macfarlane & Co.'s advertisement.

J. M. Oat, Jr. & Co. have handsome school globes, just the thing to enable youngsters to get round their geography.

The ship has come in, and Messrs. E. O. Hall & Son have their supplies of best brands of oils and matches; also, the famous agricultural implements in which they deal.

The Bethel Union Church site is to be sold by Mr. L. J. Levey on Saturday, 25th inst. The property has been divided, for the purpose of sale, into four building lots, one on King street, one corner King and Bethel, and two facing Bethel street.

Binks went up to see the prize beauty at the World's Museum the other day, and after a long drawn gaze, remarked to a bystander that it was the largest, the most symmetrical vaccination mark he'd ever beheld on a girl's arm.—Boston Herald.

LEGISLATIVE SUMMARY.

Yesterday forenoon the Road Supervisors' bill, passed the day before, was reconsidered, on motion of Mr. Brown seconded by Mr. Castle, in order to make an amendment to the section that requires the road tax to be paid to the supervisors. This was effected, Mr. Kaulukou being repulsed in a motion to indefinitely postpone the bill. If the bill be not kicked down the backstairs, it will give the country roads the benefit of the money exacted from the people exclusively therefor. The bill to confer the rights of citizenship on the Messrs. Hoffing was changed to a bill to naturalize them and passed second reading. Mr. Kalua presented a report from the select committee on the two electric light bills. They found that Mr. D. P. Smith's bill was defective in not having conditions binding him the performance of the contract, therefore recommended that it be laid on the table. Mr. C. O. Berger's bill they could not recommend in its original form, but the applying grantee had made amendments and parties interested had been consulted, so that on the basis of views and information obtained they had prepared a new bill, the passage of which they recommended. The report was tabled to be considered with the bills. Mr. Brown had a bill of his, to provide for the issuing of certificates of competency of engineers in charge of the boilers and machinery of steam vessels, placed on the order of the day to be considered with a bill relating to the inspection of steam boilers. Mr. Kaulukou had a new bill pushed through to third reading, to amend section 1023, Civil Code, relating to the issuing of executions and proceedings thereon. Mr. Dare, Attorney-General, presented a petition from the executors of the estate of the late Princess Bernice Pauahi Bishop, praying for an appropriation of $41.85 to satisfy judgment in the Police Court for taxes overpaid. Mr. Dare also moved reconsideration of the mechanics' lien bill, in order to introduce a shorter and otherwise improved bill, which carried, and the new bill went to the Judiciary Committee. A bill to amend section 51, Civil Code, relating to licenses, was sent to the select committee on the tariff. Mr. Hayselden presented the minority report of the committee on the redistribution bill, recommending its passage with an amendment giving Oahu ten members, six of them for Honolulu. At the afternoon session, the bill introduced by Mr. Kaulukou, to provide for five judges of the Supreme Court, was under consideration. Mr. Brown moved its indefinite postponement, holding that there was not enough work for five judges. Mr. Kaulukou defended his child with ability and vigor, stating that often the present Court had to adjudicate on appeals in cases that had already been tried before two out of the three judges. Mr. Dole assented to the argument of Mr. Kaulukou, but pointed out that the bill provided no assurance that the evil would not continue under five judges. Mr. Dare said there was no place in the world where such a state of affairs existed. As to work for the judges, he said they could find useful employment, for one thing, in framing a Practice Act, as at present each judge makes his own practice. Finally, on Mr. Dare's motion, the bill was referred to a select committee consisting of Messrs. Dole, Richardson, Kaulukou and Brown. The Flowerdew petition was indefinitely postponed, on motion of Mr. Dole, who contended that the petitioner had made his arrangements with the Ministers and should look to them for redress. Mr. Dole's bill to regulate the granting of pensions was under consideration when the house rose about five o'clock.

Edison's Latest.

"There is but one idea that I am thinking of that I care to talk about," said Thos. Edison. "As soon as I can find time to go to Florida I am going to make some experiments with earth currents. I cannot do it here, because there is too much mineral in the soil. In Florida it is all sand. There are currents of electricity passing all the time through the earth; their directions however, are unknown. I propose to arrange eight currents, radiating in as many directions from a central point. I will place a man at each circuit to test the power of the currents. It is well known that if an earth current passes a wire at right angles there is but little if any appreciable effect made upon it. The greatest power is felt where the wire and currents run in parallel directions. In Boston I have run a wire six hours with the aurora borealis without a battery. If I had a rod at that time running from New York to Boston, I would have had electric power enough on it to run all the machinery in Boston."

"After you understand the currents, what then?"

"Well, a knowledge of them may revolutionize telegraphy. It may revolutionize meteorological bureau system and make it possible to forecast the weather exactly. I have an idea that it may do something still greater, but I do not care to talk about it at present. Telegraphic wires sooner or later will be a thing of the past, I believe. They are expensive and cumbersome, and why use them if you can make an instrument that will be sensitive to the natural earth currents?"—Philadelphia Times.

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING.

W. M. G.—s—n—"Men may come and men may go, but I go on forever (which I am free to confess is an original remark)."

R. J. Chr—t—n—"I showed 'em the sensible foreign policy in the Samoan appointment."

Memorandum.

The Am. bark Edward May, left Boston, April 21, 1896. First week out experienced fair wind and fine weather, afterwards light head winds, until reaching 24 deg N, 30 deg W, then NE trade winds to 60 deg N, 27 deg W, then one week light baffling winds and rain squalls. Crossed the Equator May 23, in 23 deg W, had from there to 20 deg S; 35 deg W, SE trades; from there to 23 deg S, in Atlantic to same latitude in Pacific, had a succession of head winds, making very slow progress. June 22, in latitude 4 1/2 deg S, longitude 6 deg W, struck by sea which stove a hole in the steam launch lashed on deck, and washed off main hatch battens. June 27, passed the British bark Isle of Erin, from Glasgow bound for this port, 30 miles north of Statenland. July 3, passed Cape Horn in latitude 57 1/2 deg S, was 24 days from 51 deg latitude in Atlantic to same latitude in Pacific, with westerly and northwest trades; from latitude 22 deg S, 25 deg W, too SE trades; moderate and pleasant weather to a deg N, 25 deg W, then SW winds to 15 deg N, 230 deg W; then took NE trade to port. Arrived at Honolulu, September 6, with about 1,700 tons general merchandise consigned to C. Brewer & Co. She was 119 days coming from Boston to this port. She is docked at Brewer's wharf.
